respective detailers and an ability to more easily provide proof that an officer has met the requirements of Professional Responsibility Rule 8, which requires proof of "good standing" with the State licensing authority. Very soon, JAGPERS will also be the source depository for e-mail addresses that will be used to disseminate important and valuable information, i.e. "People Talks" to JAG Corps officers.

To use this new service, please log onto <https://enterprise.jag.navy.mil>. Once at the official login screen, for the "user name" field, the officer must enter his or her last name and middle initial in the following format: sailor.ben.e or sailor.ben, if no middle name. For the "password" field, the officer must enter his or her last name (initial character must be capitalized) and 4 digit year of birth. For example, Sailor1961. After entering this information, the officer will then be prompted to change his or her password.

After changing their password, the officer should once again log on to the system and select "My Profile" from the menu. The officer can then review and update his or her own personal and contact information. After updating their personal information, the officer should select "Biography" from the menu, and "Update", which will allow them to both upload their biographical information and official photograph. Official photographs must be submitted in the JPEG, GIF, or BMP standards

Very soon, JAGPERS will also be the source depository for e-mail addresses that will be used to disseminate important and valuable information, i.e. "People Talks" to JAG Corps officers.

To use this new service, please log onto <https://enterprise.jag.navy.mil>. Once at the official login screen, for the "user name" field, the officer must enter his or her last name and middle initial in the following format: sailor.ben.e or sailor.ben, if no middle name. For the "password" field, the officer must enter his or her last name (initial character must be capitalized) and 4 digit year of birth. For example, Sailor1961. After entering this information, the officer will then be prompted to change his or her password.

After changing their password, the officer should once again log on to the system and select "My Profile" from the menu. The officer can then review and update his or her own personal and contact information.
